Tent Shows

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Mr. W. L. Carline, advance agent for Tent Shows, was killed in a storm by lightning, a few minutes after he arrived in Chicago last night. The official was on his way to a meeting of the advance agents when he was struck by the lightning. The body was found near the tent. It was stated by the police that the man was in a state of醉 when the accident occurred. His death is a great loss to the advance agents, as he was a well-known and respected member of the fraternity.

DID NOT REPRESENT SENTRY

A man claiming to be in the advance of the Tent Shows, but who was later discovered to be a impostor, was arrested by the police last night. The man, who was wearing a uniform similar to that of the Tent Shows, was captured by the police after a search of the city. The man was later identified as a former member of the advance agents, who had been dismissed from the organization for reasons of misconduct.

A Broach of Trust

Unquestionably there will be such a grand assortment of pictures as the Billposters have to offer that a most unusual and interesting place will be seen in the Billposters' showrooms. There is a transaction of some sort or other that is taking place, and the public is asked to come and see it. The story is that these men have become the masters of the situation, and that they have been granted the right and wrong of the circumstances.

CIRCUS PEOPLE BECOME ELKS

During the management of the Robinson & Babylo Show in Jacksonville, after its departure, the ex-animals had been taken to a large stockyard near the outskirts of the city. It was at this point that they first heard the story of the elk. The story was told by a man who claimed to have seen elk in the park. The animals were interested and asked if they could see these elk. The man agreed and the next day the animals began their journey to the park. They arrived there excited and eager to see the elk. As they walked around, they saw the elk for the first time. They were amazed and even more excited as they realized that these were the animals they had been hearing about. The animals settled down for the night, feeling happy and content knowing that they had finally seen the elk.
JEFFERSON PACKED THE JURY

Each spring, a number of years ago, the town of Jefferson in Polk County, Iowa, was troubled by an unusual drought. Although the town had a fine water supply, the drought made the water supply inadequate for the needs of the town.

The citizens of Jefferson, realizing the danger, decided to drill for a new well. They hired a contractor to drill the well, and the contractor began work.

However, the first few days of drilling proved to be unsuccessful. The contractor, frustrated by his lack of progress, gave up and left the town.

The citizens of Jefferson, determined to find a solution, decided to appeal to the government for help. They wrote to the president of the United States, explaining their problem and asking for assistance.

The president responded by sending a team of experienced geologists to the town. The team began drilling immediately, and within a few weeks, they had completed the well.

The citizens of Jefferson were grateful for the help they had received, and they were determined to make sure that their well would provide a reliable water supply for the future.

They hired a contractor to build a new water tower, and they installed a system of pipes to distribute the water throughout the town.

The citizens of Jefferson were proud of the well they had built, and they were determined to make sure that it would serve the needs of the town for many years to come.

What Thompson & Handy Propose To Do This Fall
By The Standard Release

The future of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson is the subject of considerable discussion among the show business fraternity. The couple, who have been very successful in their respective fields, are planning to retire from the limelight and settle down to a quiet life of their own choosing. They have been approached by several companies with offers to appear in one of their productions, but they have declined, stating that they are not interested in the commercial side of the business. The Thompsons are known for their dedication to their craft and their commitment to the preservation of the arts. They have expressed their desire to focus on their family and personal lives in the future.

MARIE FITZGERALD

The Lighthouse, at Dreamland, which was just put in rehearsal by the Old Reliables, is a work of art in every sense of the word. The performers are top-notch, the direction is excellent, and the setting is breathtaking. The story unfolds in a lighthouse at the end of the world, where a young sailor falls in love with a young girl who has been abandoned by her family. The two find solace in each other, but their love is tortuous and fragile. The ending is a masterpiece of drama, leaving the audience in tears.

A Sweet Spirit of the Square West

Financial difficulties have The Wiz after a much reduced staff and with a smaller cast. The show has been moved to the Washington Theatre, where it has been playing to small audiences. The new production has been met with mixed reviews, with some critics praising the performances and others criticizing the script and music. The cast has been reduced to a smaller group, with fewer songs and dance numbers. The show is still a hit with some fans, who come to see the talented cast and enjoy the story of a young girl's adventures in the land of Oz. The production has been well received by some critics, who praise the performances and the quality of the show. However, others have been critical of the changes and the lack of energy on stage. The Wiz remains a favorite of many, and it will continue to be performed in theaters and on Broadway for years to come.

Announced For

The managers of the fair entertainments are surprising the public with announcements of notable progresses in the field of amusement and entertainment, and not only that they have searched the world over for unique and original features but without provision for the people's amusement and entertainment.

It is interesting to note that these managers are now giving considerable attention to the production of the fairs as a whole.

The owner of the Oxford can be proud of the way in which he has handled the entertainment business. The show has been well organized and well managed. The management of the show has been well done, and the fair will be a big hit with the public.

The only battle ship ever launched in the West, the USS Arkansas, was on display in the fair. The ship was a huge success and attracted a large crowd.

The management of the Oxford

Fairs has announced that the show will be held in the new location this year. The show will be much larger and better than ever before.

In conclusion, the managers of the Oxford Fairs have announced that the show will be a great success. The fair will be held in the new location this year, and the management has done a

splendid job in preparing for the opening.

The Oxford Fairs are

announced for the coming season. The fair will be held in the new location this year, and the

management has done a

splendid job in preparing for the opening.
